Exceeding the max supported current may result in damage or data loss.

LAN (Wired setup)
Connect your TV to your network by connecting the LAN port on the back of your TV to an external modem or router using a LAN (Ethernet/Cat 5) cable. See the illustration below.
- We recommend you to use a modem or router that supports Dynamic Host Configuration Protocol (DHCP). Modems and routers that support DHCP automatically provide the IP address, subnet mask, gateway, and DNS, so you don’t have to enter them manually. Most home networks already have DHCP.

Connect your TV to your wireless network, you need a wireless router or modem. See the illustration below.

- The TV's built-in Wireless LAN Adapter supports the IEEE 802.11 b/g/n communication protocols.

NOTES

- You must use the built-in Wireless LAN Adapter to use a wireless network because the set doesn’t support external USB network adapter.
- If the wireless router supports DHCP, your TV can connect more easily to the wireless network.
- If you apply a security system which is not listed below, it will not work with the TV.

- In order to guarantee smooth network, the distance between router and TV should be less than 10 meters.
